

Lockdown Continues

Well as you can imagine there is not a lot to report on at the moment with Lockdown preventing us enjoying our usual orienteering events.

Some good news is that the Government seem determined to lift the current Lockdown on 2nd December but they will revert to a strict regional Tier system so watch this space for information about events over the coming weeks.

Return to Orienteering.

We are happy to announce that our 50th Birthday event has been given the go ahead by Carlisle City Council Greenspaces team. This was the event that was posted from 31st May and almost caught up in Lockdown 2.0.

Sunday 6th December at Chances Park, Carlisle. And SIEntries is now open. https://www.sientries.co.uk/event.php?event_id=7770

3 available courses, 2x 50 control events, one short (3.1km), one long (4.8km), that's an average leg length of 62m and 96m respectively, and one Yellow course (1.9km) as well. Map scale is 1:3000, with start blocks between 11:00 and 12:30. £5 senior and £2 junior/student.

n.b. Anyone with an "old-style" dibber that can only "dib" up to 30 controls, don't worry a plan is being worked on so you can complete the full course. More details soon.

WCOC MapRun courses

If you visit www.wcoc.co.uk, click on 'members' and then 'navigation activities', you will find several Maprun courses, including the new one for Raven Crag. By scrolling down you can find the maps from the older courses, many of which still seem to be available as live MapRuns on the app...or you can just make use of the maps to have a run out with a map in your hand! Don't forget the permanent courses at Whinlatter and Ennerdale.....keep orienteering!

A Mapping Snippet from Pete Nelson—a mapping dilemma.

Is this a wall or a fence? It will be shown on some maps as both, with a combined symbol. It's most visually prominent as a wall, and that's what I would have called it in earlier years. But the latest mapping standard puts the emphasis on runnability, not navigation. So which is the bigger obstacle to a runner (assuming you're allowed to cross it)? I've drawn this one as a fence.

Christmas is Coming—some ideas for orienteers -Remember—Orders of Club hoodies/t-shirts to John Eaton asap for Christmas delivery; orders of NVii shoes and compasses to Steve by end of the month as the order needs to go in by 1st December.
