Night Series starts well

The second event on farmland near Bridekirk had a really good turnout enjoying some fast, easy orienteering. The straightforward nature of the areas used for the first four or five events gives those who are trying night orienteering for the first time the chance to get around the course successfully.

Thanks to everyone for sensible parking on the narrow road. It is so important not to block access for other members of the public using these roads. Many of our areas require parking on verges, so lets hope we can keep our reputation good. The weather did turn a little wet, but was otherwise very mild.

But the weather can be much worse as we progress through the series. Ice and snow(wonderful!), wind and rain may be the order of the day at some of the events. Please come suitably dressed, and prepared for bad conditions. Having a bumbag with 'extras' in it is a good idea. Your torch is the weak link, so please consider carrying a spare with you. But do enjoy the run, it really is one of the most exciting forms of orienteering.

Holme Fell Galoppen

Tremendous turnout for this Galoppen (358 competitors), on a very technical and challenging area, which provided tough competition for club members. Wins on Yellow for Hiroki Holmes, on Orange for Myrtle Ashworth and on Light Green for Wilfrid Teasdale. Joe Sunley was second on Blue. Third places for Clare Rodger on Short Green and Isaac Hunter on Orange. Well done!
